CLASSIFIED BIBLIOGRAPHY.

BOOKS PUBLISHED FROM NOVEMBER 15, 1896, TO MARCH 10, 1897.

[In this list are included the titles of only the more important works on Politics, Law, Economics and Sociology.]

I. POLITICS AND LAW.

President John Smith. The Story of a Peaceful Revolution. By FREDERICK UPHAM ADAMS. Pp. 290. Price, paper, 25c. Cloth, $1.00. Chicago: C. H. Kerr & Co., 1897.

Glasgow, Its Municipal Organization and Administration. By Sir JAMES BELL and JAMES PATON. Pp. xxiii, 426. Price, 21s., $3.00. Glasgow: Jas. Mac Lehosé & Sons. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1896.

[An exhaustive study of the organization and institutions of the city. An excellent account of the growth of city problems and the method of dealing with them is given. This work represents the most thorough and careful description of municipal institutions that has as yet been published.]

Municipal Reform in the United States. By THOMAS C. DEVLIN. Pp. ix, 174. Price, $1.00. (Questions of the Day Series.) New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1896.

[A discussion of reforms needed rather than a history of the reform movement and somewhat unsatisfactory, because of the absence of any information in regard to the concrete difficulties which American cities encounter.]

British India. By R. W. FRAZER, LL. B., I. C. S. Pp. xviii, 399. Price, $1.50. (The Story of the Nations Series.) New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1897.

The History of Greece. From its Commencement to the Close of the Independence of the Greek Nation. Translated from the German in 4 vols. Vol. iii—The Fourth Century B. C. up to the Death of Alexander. By ADOLPH HOLM. Pp. xiii, 456. Price, $2.50. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1896.

The Street Railway Problem in Cleveland. A Statement of Existing Conditions; and a Discussion of the Policy which the City should Pursue with regard to its Street Railways. By WM. ROWLAND HOPKINS. (Economic Studies, Vol. I, Nos. 5 and 6.) Pp. 289-376. Price, 75c. New York: The Macmillan Co. for the American Economic Association. 1896.

[This monograph throws some light on the general problem of the relation which should exist between the municipality and the street railway, at the same time that it gives an exhaustive account of the Cleveland situation. The author is opposed to city ownership.]

The English Constitution. A Commentary on Its Nature and Growth.
By JESSE MACY, M. A. Pp. xxiii, 534. Price, $2.00. New York:
The Macmillan Co., 1897.

[To be reviewed in ANNALS for July, 1897. Vol. x, No. 1.]

The State and the Individual. An Introduction to Political Science; with Special Reference to Socialistic and Individualistic Theories.
By WM. SHARP M'KECHNIE, M. A., LL. B. Pp. xv, 451. Price,
$3.00. New York: The Macmillan Co. Glasgow: Jas. Mac Le-hose & Sons, 1896.

[An attempt to restate the principles of governmental interference. The author gives a philosophic discussion of the nature of the state, showing the close relation between the different forms of social activity. In his conclusions he expresses much dissatisfaction with the principles of the extreme individualistic school.]

Causes of the Maryland Revolution of 1689. By FRANCIS EDGAR SPARKS, A. B. (Johns Hopkins University Studies. Fourteenth Series, XI-XII.) Pp. 109. Price, 50c. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Press, 1896.

Recollections of Alexis de Tocqueville. Edited by the COMTE DE TOCQUEVILLE. Translated into English by Alexander Teixeira de Mattos. Pp. xiv, 416. Price, $4.50. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1896.

[An excellent translation of the memoirs which de Tocqueville jotted down in 1850 and published just before his death in 1859. They deal mainly with the political events of the year 1848.]

Southern Statesmen of the Old Régime.—Washington, Jefferson, Randolph, Calhoun, Stephens, Toombs and Jefferson Davis. By WM. P. TRENT, M. A. Pp. xv, 293. Price, $2.00. New York: Thos. Y. Crowell & Co., 1897.

Undercurrents of the Second Empire: Notes and Recollections. By ALBERT D. VANDAM. Pp. x, 432. Price, $2.50. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1896.

[Written in the same popular style which commended "An Englishman in Paris" to general readers, this work gives an interesting picture of the career of the second Napoleon until the crash in 1870.]

II. ECONOMICS.

(a) General.

Cours d'Économie sociale. By R. P. C. ANTOINE, S. J. Pp. 669.
Price, 9 fr. Paris: Guillaumin et Cie, 1896.

[This work is designed for use as a text-book and presents a comprehensive survey of the field of social phenomena in a didactic manner. It is written in an interesting style and provided with a liberal supply of bibliographical references.]

Leon Say. Finances Publiques—Liberté du Commerce. Introduction de JOS. CHAILLEY-BERT. Pp. xlv, 280. Paris: Guillaumin et Cie.

[Noticed in ANNALS for March, 1897. Vol. ix, p. 249.]

Johann Joachim Becher. Ein Beitrag zur Geschichte der Nationalökonomik. By R. v. ERDBERG-KRCZENCIEWSKI. Pp. 148.
Price, 3^m. Jena: Gustav Fischer, 1896.

[The subject of this biography was one of the most interesting of the German mercantilists of the seventeenth century, and the account of his life and writings throws some light on the theories of trade and money which were being discussed in his day.]

Quesnay et la Physiocratie. By YVES GUYOT. Pp. lxxix, 99. Paris: Guillaumin et Cie, 1896.

[Noticed in ANNALS for March, 1897. Vol. ix, p. 249.]

The Physiocrats.—Six Lectures on the French Economists of the Eighteenth Century. By HENRY HIGGS. Pp. x, 151. Price, $1.10. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1897.

[An excellent résumé of the best results of French and German scholarship touching the Physiocrats. The "rise of the school," its "doctrines," its "activities," "opponents of the school" and the "influence of the school" are the topics considered. The book is supplied with complete bibliography and index.]

Traité Théorique et Pratique d'Économie Politique. (Deuxième Edition.) Tomes I, II, III, IV, et Table Analytique des Matières. By PAUL LÉROY-BEAULIEU. (Économistes et Publicistes Contemporains.) Pp. vii, 793; 652; 694; 810, et Annexe, 88. Price, 36 fr. Paris: Guillaumin et Cie, 1896.

[This treatise is divided into eight parts treating, respectively, of scope and method, production, the condition of progress, distribution, exchange, consumption, population and the state. That it has its public ready for it in France is shown by the fact that the first edition was exhausted within six months of its appearance.]

History of Economics. By HENRY DUNNING MACLEOD, M. A. Pp. 706. Price, $4.50. London: Bliss, Sands & Co. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1896.

[This book is rather a condensed encyclopedia than a history of economics. Following some preliminary observations on the scope and method of the science and a brief sketch of the progress of economic theory, the body of the book is devoted to the topical discussion of "the fundamental concepts and axioms of economics." Judged as an encyclopedia its utility is open to question.]

Der achtstündige Normalarbeitstag. By BERNHARD ROST. Pp. 216. Price, 4.40^m. Leipzig: Duncker & Humblot, 1896.

Die Politische Ökonomie. Als Grundlage nationalökonomischer Vorlesungen und Lehrbuch an Fachschulen, Repetitorium für Studierende der Staatswissenschaften, sowie für den Selbstunterricht. Dritte, umgearbeitete und vermehrte Auflage. By EDUARD AUGUST SCHROEDER. Pp. xvi, 415. Leipzig: F. Fleischer, 1897.

Théorie de la Repartition de la Richesse Sociale. Études d'Économie sociale. By LÉON WALRAS. Pp. viii, 464. Paris: F. Pichon, 1896.

(b) Special Problems.

Economics and Jurisprudence. An Address delivered at the Meeting of the American Economic Association in Baltimore, December 28, 1896. By HENRY C. ADAMS, Ph. D. (Economic Studies, Vol. II, No. 1.) Pp. 48. Price, 50c. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1897.

History of the Tobacco Industry in Virginia from 1860 to 1894. By B. W. ARNOLD, JR., Ph. D. (Johns Hopkins University Studies, Fifteenth Series, I-II.) Pp. 86. Price, 50c. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Press, 1897.

[Following a brief introduction pointing out the historical importance of tobacco to Virginia, the author examines in detail the history of the growth and manufacture of the "weed" during the last third of a century. The monograph is rich in statistical material and excellently arranged.]

Family Budgets. Being the Income and Expenses of Twenty-eight British Households, 1891-94. With Introduction by CHARLES BOOTH, ERNEST AVES, and HENRY HIGGS. Pp. 76. Price, 2s. 6d. London: P. S. King & Son, 1896.
